First phase of Parkside at Craig Ranch luxury apartment homes under construction

(McKinney, Texas – November 27, 2013) Tom McElroy, Jones Lang LaSalle, received this year's title of Broker of the Year for brokering a deal with Columbus Realty Partners for a 41-acre site to build Parkside at Craig Ranch, a 2,200-unit luxury multi-family development. The first phase of 418 units is currently under construction on Alma Road.

Last month, McElroy was presented with the award at the Craig Ranch 2013 Broker Appreciation Party. David Craig, Craig Ranch, Master Developer; Brian Loughmiller, Mayor of McKinney; and Travis Ussery, McKinney Mayor Pro Tem and City Councilman for District 3 were all in attendance to congratulate McElroy and support Craig Ranch's commercial success since the announcement of the McKinney Corporate Center Craig Ranch. In addition to the title of 2013 Broker of the Year, McElroy was awarded a trip to London and Paris.

McElroy recognized the potential for success for Columbus Realty Group's large-scale project in Craig Ranch, David Craig's successful, growing McKinney master-planned, mixed-use community. McElroy's accomplishment is one of many for the commercial development in Craig Ranch. Construction continues on the first office building in the McKinney Corporate Center, the first phase of The Avenues at Craig Ranch, another luxury multi-family development, was recently completed on Stacy Road near Custer and TRAXXAS completed its 87,000 square foot research and development/distribution facility earlier this year.
